Report of Fraternal Correspondent

General Grand Chapter:

Many of the Grand Chapters reported an excellent response to the request of the General Grand High Priest, Companion Tom Quitman Ellis, for the observance of Religious Affirmation Day. It is to be hoped that this excellent program will be continued and expanded —under no circumstances neglected or allowed to lapse.

There has been a splendid response by both affiliated and non-affiliated Grand Chapters to the appeal for funds to complete the Royal Arch Room in the George Washington Masonic National Memorial at Alexandria, Virginia, making this what it was hoped it would be—not a General Grand Chapter but a truly Royal Arch Project. There are still a few contributions not yet forwarded. But they are coming in. The Room will probably be dedicated and presented in February, 1957. We are particularly grateful to our Canadian Companions.

The Right Excellent General Grand King of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, Companion J. Luther Jordan, was the principal speaker at the banquet in Alabama (1956). Companion Jordan, choosing the subject "Masonic Goals," used as the text of his address a quotation from Emerson:

"There is a sublime and friendly destiny by which the human race is guided—the race never dying, the individual never spared—to results affecting the masses and the ages."

Alabama (1956) carries in full the bulletin issued by the General Grand Secretary of the General Grand Chapter following the 49th Triennial Convocation at Asheville.

The Address at the luncheon in Arkansas (1955) was made by Past General Grand High Priest, Earl E. Dusenbery, who also presented the Distinguished Service Medal.

The Reviewer in California (1956) covers the work of the General Grand Chapter in a splendid way, discussing Religious Affirmation Day, the Royal Arch Mason magazine, History of Royal Arch Freemasonry, and the Royal Arch Room project.
